

Wareham Town Museum February 2022

The Museum has been closed, for the winter, since the end of October, but we're still busy behind the scenes. We were privileged to be able to offer the museum to host Santa's Grotto for the Father Christmas Committee in December, and we look forward to welcoming back those families for a longer visit when we reopen!

Our team have been busy sorting through our stored items and identifying any that do not fit in the museum and organising the transfer to other organisations. During the last lockdown we discovered some hidden items (see our YouTube channel to watch the Curator exploring behind the cupboards) including some items of taxidermy. These items require specialist care and we are delighted that Bournemouth Natural Science Society have offered them a new home.

Many of the displays in the museum will be updated and will include a display marking the Jubilee celebrations. In such a small place we have many interesting displays, and we are particularly proud of our T E Lawrence exhibit.

Our opening event is the morning of 16th April 2022, where you can visit the Museum for the first time this year, and join in activities in the Corn Exchange, which will centre around the Queen's Jubilee. There will be a chance to come and reminisce about Jubilees gone by. Maybe you have some memorabilia which you could bring along to show us?
